ELBA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1922.

NUMBER 25.

ELBA BANK & TRUST COMPANY CHOSEN AS COUNTY DEPOSITORY

At a meeting of the Commissioners' Court of Coffee County, held at Elba on Monday, Elba Bank & Trust Company was chosen as the depository for county funds for the next twelve months.

For the past several years the office of county treasurer has been held by Hon. John C. Davis, who has made quite an efficient and accommodating official.

The law provides that the court may select an individual to look after the county funds, or it may select some bank in the county. All banks have the privilege of bidding for the custody of the funds. The law also provides that in case a bank is selected, said bank shall pay interest on the money which may be on deposit.

It is understood that there were bids from three banks in the county, with Elba Bank & Trust Company offering the highest rate of interest on the deposits. It has not been learned just when the bank will take over the custody of the funds, but we presume that the transfer will take place within the next few weeks, as soon as the required bond and other details are arranged.

PROMINENT FARMER OF COVINGTON MURDERED; LYNCH NEGRO

Andalusia, Dec. 4.—Moss violence reigned in the vicinity of Harlan's gin house, just over the Crenshaw county line today, where George Teague, negro, was killed and his body riddled with bullets, according to reports, and his two sons were hiding after the killing at 11 o'clock last night of Hossia Brogden, prominent farmer, resident of the Happy Hollow district, a few miles from Gantt in the midst of an argument between the negroes.

Mr. Brogden, with a negro who worked on his farm had carried the three blacks to a well place, also near Gantt, trouble arose and Mr. Brogden intervened and was attacked by the elder Teague with a knife while one of the sons, most generally thought to be Essie Teague struck Mr. Brogden in the back of the head with a heavy black jack, fracturing the skull and causing almost instant death.

Sheriff H. B. Gantt with county and city officials who were reinforced by many volunteer citizens from the neighborhood rushed to the scene soon after occurring at 11 o'clock last night.

Mr. Brogden was a brother of Hiram J. Brogden, recently elected probate judge here and has two other brothers who reside on neighboring farm to his.

Friends and relatives throughout the county and state were enraged upon learning of the horrible catastrophe, and it was reported at the sheriff's office here this afternoon that hundreds of armed men from over the county were about the scene where the two young negroes alleged to have been implicated are said to have made their temporary escape from the officers.

It seems that George Teague had separated from his wife some few weeks ago and that, after arriving at the scene of the negro social last night he went to the home of his former wife to take her to the party which request was refused and a fight ensued. Mr. Brogden and his negro employee endeavored to quiet the disorder and both were attacked by the Teague negroes, all of whom made a hurried getaway to where they were found this afternoon, heavily armed. The elder negro was killed according to reports, and the other two were still being sought by officers at a late hour this afternoon.

Friends of the deceased farmer and his bereaved family and relatives will mourn deeply the loss of this highly respected citizen of the county. Funeral announcements will be made later.

Luverne, Ala., Dec. 3.—The body of George Teague, one of the negroes implicated in the death of Hossia Brogden, a prominent white farmer of Crenshaw county, was brought to town today after he had been riddled with bullets when a posse attempted to arrest him about nine miles south of here. Posses headed by the sheriff of Crenshaw county, the sheriff of Covington county and several individually arranged parties are scouring this section of the state for the two sons of George Teague who are charged with complicity in the killing of Mr. Brogden.

The negro killed this morning was sent up from this county about sixteen years ago on a charge of assault to murder and served 2 years of a five year sentence. The body was turned over to local negroes for burial.

WELL KNOWN CITIZEN DIES SUDDENLY TUESDAY NIGHT.

Mr. Sam Braswell, aged and highly respected citizen, died suddenly on last Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Reeves a few miles above town. The cause of his death is supposed to have been heart failure.

Mr. Braswell was apparently in his usual good health at retiring Tuesday night, but shortly thereafter members of the Reeves family heard him make some unusual noise and went to his assistance. However, he fell to the floor and died within a few moments, before medical aid could be secured.

He was a splendid citizen and had scores of friends throughout this section, who were pained to learn of his sudden death. The funeral and burial occurred on Wednesday. He is survived by a large number of relatives.

BUYING FRUIT TREES, CO-OPERATIVELY.

Auburn, Ala., Dec. 4.—From different points in Alabama reports have been received that farmers are pooling their orders for fruit trees and buying them cooperatively. This they are doing on a larger scale this year, due to their success in buying this way during 1921 and in previous years.

By the cooperative purchase of fruit trees farmers point out that they save money on the purchase price and that frequently they succeed in getting better trees because by having them arrive at the same time they can have them inspected and discard trees not measuring up to the requirements.

Carrying the cooperative idea a step further, cooperative buying of fruit trees leads to cooperative spraying and other orchard management. The cost of spray pumps and spray materials, and the application of same is sufficient to cause many farmers having only a small home orchard not to spray but by buying the pump and material cooperatively the cost to each individual is very small, and following this they can establish a spray ring and spray their orchards together.

SHOOT NEIGHBOR, THEN TAKES POISON.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 30.—Mrs. Kate Drager, 36-years-old is dead from the effects of poison and Turner Carter, a neighbor, 35-years-old, is at a hospital in a critical condition as a result of a pistol shot wound said to have been inflicted by Mrs. Drager shortly before she swallowed the poisonous drug at her home here today. A note indicated the woman was dependent, but police declare they have been unable to learn the reason for the shooting of Clark. Physicians stated his chances for recovery were slight. Mrs. Drager died soon after she was taken to a hospital.

MITTENTHAL STORE AT TROY IS BURNED

BIG FIRE LAST TUESDAY NIGHT DESTROYS LARGE DEPARTMENT STORE.

Troy Messenger says: One of the largest fires which has occurred in Troy in years occurred on Tuesday night shortly after 12 o'clock when the double store of Sam Mittenenthal burned, his mammoth stock being practically a complete loss.

Mr. Mittenenthal occupies two and a half stores on the east side of court square. The half store or stock room, cut off from the two main stores by a fire door saving this part of the stock.

The two main stores each of large dimensions, were not only gutted of the stocks, but the roofs of the building fell in. Only charred remnants of goods which composed a magnificent stock were left when the firemen completed their work of extinguishing the blaze.

The fire is said to have started in the alteration room of the store, and spread rapidly to the south side of the store being well covered with flames before the streams of water could be started against the fire.

Firemen worked all night fighting the flames, and it was perhaps 9 o'clock before the water was finally shut off. Boards were nailed over the four big windows of the store, the plate glass having been broken to bits.

Partly Insured.
When seen this morning Mr. Mittenenthal stated that he was not insured for the value of his stock, or his probable loss. He said that the stock was insured for about half of its real value, and thus he would lose many thousands of dollars.

The stock was likely worth between fifty and seventy-five thousand dollars. Mr. Mittenenthal stated that as soon as the insurance could be adjusted he would likely take the remainder of the stock from the store room and open up temporary headquarters some where, until the stores could be repaired and placed in condition for use again.

It is likely that he will then restock the stores and begin business on a large scale again.

It is estimated that 13,500,000 automobiles will be registered on January 1, 1923, compared with 10,500,000 this year. The average annual consumption of each car is figured at 420 gallons.

During the nine months ending September 30, the United States exported 253,497,519 gallons or 6,035,664 barrels of lubricating oil. To obtain this quantity, the oil industry had to refine approximately 108,642,000 barrels of crude petroleum.

BIRMINGHAM MAN IS GIVEN BAD FLOGGING

UNMASKED MEN CALLED MERCHANT FROM TROY CARRY HIM AWAY FOR SEVERE BEATING.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 2.—Lured from his store by a band of unmasked men, 10 o'clock last night, Angelo Caragi, who operates a confectionary at 4431 Tenth avenue north, was taken to a point beyond the city limits and severely flogged according to police reports.

Caragi was found at four o'clock this morning about six miles from Birmingham on the Springville road and showed evidence of having been severely beaten police said.

Caragi refused to discuss the alleged flogging other than to say that he could not identify members of the party and could assign no motive for the party's action. However, Caragi insisted to police that he intended to sell his business and leave Birmingham, stating that he would probably advertise his store for sale at once.

According to police reports, an automobile drove up to Caragi's store about 10 o'clock and the occupants of the car summoned the merchant to the door by blowing the horn in the machine. When Caragi appeared, one of them covered him with a revolver and commanded him to enter the car. It was reported that there was no one in the store at the time according to J. A. Williams, 1104 North Forty-fifth street, who reported the man's disappearance the store left unattended.

Williams stated that he and D. H. Smith, 1031 North 31st street entered the store to assist Caragi's return. When he failed to return by 12 o'clock, Williams stated that he reported the merchant's disappearance to the police.

A young woman clerk in Caragi's store, who declined to give her name stated that she knew nothing of the abduction as she left the store before it took place. She stated the merchant desired that the case "be kept out of the newspapers." He had received no warning, nor threats so far as she knew.

This is the first flogging that has been reported since the organization of the law enforcement league, according to Col. T. O. Smith, chairman of the league.

Caragi has operated his east Birmingham store, known as "Charlie's Place" for several years.

By virtue of a writ of Venditioni Exponas issued out of the Clerk's office of the Circuit Court of Coffee County, State of Alabama, and to me directed, whereby I am commanded to sell the lands herein described to satisfy a judgment recently obtained against J. W. Lewis, in favor of W. B. Perdue, I will sell the following property, to-wit:

West Virginia moonshiners are now to be using skunks to outwit the revenue officers. The scent of the skunk obliterates that of the hootch and officers are unable to locate the den by following the hootch animal. Williams stated that he and D. H. Smith, 1031 North 31st street entered the store to assist Caragi's return. When he failed to return by 12 o'clock, Williams stated that he reported the merchant's disappearance to the police.

A young woman clerk in Caragi's store, who declined to give her name stated that she knew nothing of the abduction as she left the store before it took place. She stated the merchant desired that the case "be kept out of the newspapers." He had received no warning, nor threats so far as she knew.

MERRIWEATHER, KILLED; HENRY DEAN JAILED.

Joe Merriweather, a negro farmer, was shot and killed last Thursday about dusk while riding along the graded road near the northern limit of Safford, Ala., on his way to his home. He was carrying a charge of buckshot ending his career. Henry Dean, also colored, was arrested and is now in jail as a result of the verdict of a coroner's jury. It is said that Henry was seen by witnesses near the scene of the killing, carrying a shotgun and apparently anxious to avoid observation.

It is said there had been blood between the negroes, Merriweather having been accused of appropriating Dean's wife some time ago. Dean, shining evidence indicated, will have a preliminary hearing next week.—Samson Ledger.

God in His infinite love knew best. And we should not murmur for he is at rest. But is hard to say Thy will be done, When our thoughts and prayers spare not to us our own.

Is there nothing then to brighten and cheer our darkened way? Yes, hope fondly whispers and Christian faith earnestly insists that there is a brighter, a better and a more beautiful existence beyond this life. Just in the sweet bloom of life he is taken away, we feel that there is a bright friend gathered in Heaven, and that our loss is his eternal gain. A precious one from us is gone. A voice we loved is stilled. A place is vacant in that home, Which never can be filled. His Aunt.

YOUTH ELECTROCUTED IN PECULIAR MANNER.

Opelika, Ala., Nov. 29.—Brentley Howard, a 16-year-old boy of the Mechanicville community in the eastern section of the county, was electrocuted in an unusual and tragic manner while walking through a field near his home, it was learned here today. Young Howard, in company with a small negro boy, was out looking for cattle in a pasture thru which runs a telephone line, when he can be truthfully said gave no trouble to anyone. The community and the bereaved family are deeply grieved. But the Lord given and the Lord taketh away, blessed be the name of the Lord.

In July 1920 he accepted Christ as his Savior and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church at Woodland Grove, being ever steadfast to that of his profession of faith, always willing to do what he could in the service of the Lord.

He was laid to rest at Woodland Grove cemetery. As he was a lover of singing a number of his favorite songs, sweetly sung at the funeral, which was conducted by Rev. T. W. McKnight.

Is it possible that he has gone to his home with angels to stay. Oh! Can it be we will see him no more, Tell us us to that beautiful shore?

2 DEAD, 38 INJURED IN SCHOOL HOUSE FIRE

HEROIC GEORGIA TEACHER SAVES MANY SMALL CHILDREN BY DROPPING THEM FROM WINDOW.

Covington, Ga., November 29.—Two dead and 38 injured was the toll taken in the burning of the High-Point community school house near here Tuesday afternoon, when the structure in which 9 children were engaged in studies, was destroyed by flames. A careful check Wednesday showed that all the others had been accounted for and identified.

Mrs. Oscar Grant, brave little school teacher, who saved about 40 children by dropping them from a second story window when the school was burned, before she was overcome herself, lay in an Atlanta hospital tonight swathed in bandages. She probably will bear scars from the burns for life, according to physicians. "I don't know how I did it," she told newspapermen. "I just knew those crying children were in danger and I stayed in the room as long as I could, I had a hard time making them jump out the window."

Mrs. Grant said the two boys who met death had refused to make the jump from the window and in racing about in the room, became lost in the dense smoke.

The dead were James Steele, little son of John J. Steele, and the eight-year-old son of Mrs. Bachelor. These pupils were in the room of Mrs. Oscar Grant, who heroically stood by the window and dropped 40 children to the ground below the floor of her room gave way and she was engulfed in flames. She was unable to save the two boys who were lost in the smoke.

Seriously Injured.
Investigation Wednesday showed that 17 of the children were suffering from broken limbs as the result of the 20-foot drop. Four children swallowed flames and anxiety is felt over their condition.

The name of Miss Mary Grant was next in line. Her mother threw her bodily out of the window. Burns, a fractured leg and internal injuries are the child's name at the hospital.

A funeral party passing the school discovered smoke pouring from all windows. The fire was started, the house sent ahead. Men and women of the party rushed into the building and saved many of the children in the room below Mrs. Grant's. Many, however, received minor burns before aid came.

Mrs. Grant, on regaining consciousness, told doctors: "I am so happy that I saved so many of the children, and so overcome with grief because I could not save those others!"

An over-heated stove is believed to have caused the fire. The school house was a two-story frame building situated in a prosperous farming section. Auto fires say the building had been condemned as a fire trap more than a year ago and funds had been provided for a new fire-proof building. The erection of the new school was delayed because of a dis-sension.

YOUTH KILLS FATHER.

Clarendon, Ark., Dec. 3.—W. H. Shawler, a fisherman living near here, was shot early today, according to the story told by the boy when he surrendered to officers here tonight. Shawler, the boy declared, had driven the entire family out of the house last night compelling them to spend the night in the woods. When they returned home today, he threatened to kill his wife, and when he drew a pistol, the boy fired one shot from a shot gun at his father, killing him instantly.

CONCRETE ROAD IN SHELBY CO. TO BE BUILT SOON

Bids for the construction of a concrete or an asphalt road through Shelby county, on the Birmingham-Montgomery highway, were opened by the state highway department officials Tuesday at noon in the chamber of commerce rooms. The bids are to be tabulated, after which the project will be awarded. Work on the road is expected to begin early in January.

Figured in dollars and cents the project will be the largest awarded by the highway department since the passage of the twenty-five million-dollar bond issue. The road is approximately 22 miles in length, and runs through Shelby county.

A number of contractors filed bids on the project. Concrete asphalt and brick were the 3 substances included in the various bids.

It will be of wide interest to automobile owners and other citizens in Alabama to know that the roadway in Shelby county is soon to become a fine highway. Hundreds of automobiles from Montgomery traverse this particular road every year.

Within the course of a few more years officials of the state highway department are expected to have a magnificent road all the way from Montgomery to Birmingham.—Montgomery Journal.

EXPERIMENT MAY ELIMINATE RABID DOGS.

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 4.—If an experiment now being conducted by Dr. L. C. Havens, of the State Board of Health, proves the success anticipated such a thing as a mad dog will be a curiosity within a few years.

The experiment consists of inoculation with a new vaccine for the prevention of rabies and tests are being made to establish the value of this treatment as an immunizer against the disease.

Heretofore, the only protection against a terrible death when bitten by a rabid dog was the Pasteur treatment and since the establishment of the Pasteur Institute in Alabama more than four thousand patients have been treated, of which number less than one-fifth of one per cent have died while every person who became affected with the disease died.

If this remedy which tricks right at the root of the trouble proves successful, danger of infection is reduced to a minimum if not entirely eliminated. Heretofore the treatment has been too expensive to use on dogs, but the new discovery is reducing the cost to where it can be used on an extensive scale and thus afford almost absolute protection for the human family.

MURDER CASES OF INTEREST HERE TO BE TRIED AT ANDALUSIA

Andalusia, Ala., Dec. 13.—Dee McLean, Robert Blair and Levi Malloy, charged jointly with murder in the first degree will be brought to trial separately on Thursday of this week. Monday and Wednesday of next week, respectively, in connection with the killing last summer at Friendship church, below Opp, of Otis Kendrick. These cases will occupy the center of interest throughout the remainder of the present term of circuit court, which will conclude its sessions next Thursday or Friday.

Facts in this case are fresh in the minds of many throughout the county. Kendrick was mostly of the Moulton brothers through his attentions to their sister, and as he left the church house, the Moulton brothers, Malloy and Blair overtook and attacked him. It is charged. One of the assailants was killed and the others injured with knife wounds, according to the account of the affray at that time, and Kendrick was injured severely and died in a short time.

Judge Foster, of this circuit, returned here Monday from Columbiana, where he has been holding court for two weeks, and the cases involving the dynamiting of a dipping vat and unlawful attachment of cattle at Green Bay some time ago in which Alice Day, Bulger and Jim Pope are defendants, is now being tried.

Court will conclude next Friday morning or possibly Thursday night, as the defendants were bound over to trial on bond. They then instituted habeas corpus proceedings, which resulted in an order for the discharge of George Hardin and Frank Wilkes.

About sixteen witnesses were introduced by the state at the hearing today and none by the defense. The defense was represented by attorneys T. L. Borum, of Troy, and J. A. Carnley, of Elba.

Judge W. L. Parks and Circuit Solicitor Henry Jones represented the state. There was a packed court house of interested people to hear the testimony.

The first story of the killing was that Stewart was killed in self-defense by Henry Wilkes in a scuffle as four white farmers returned from a squirrel hunt. Later allegations were that Stewart was killed at an illicit distillery, this theory being worked on by the officers following the first story.

Mr. D. S. Toel, Mrs. Dan Sellers, Mr. and Mrs. Hollan Harrison and little son attended the Beck reunion at Bullock.

ROYAL AMBASSADORS ORGANIZED.

The boys of the Baptist Sunday School, between the ages of ten and fourteen, were invited to the home of Mrs. Harris Morrow on Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a Royal Ambassador society. Mrs. Morrow outlined the plans for this organization, which created a spirit of great interest among the boys. The following officers were elected: Edloe Wright, President; Bryan Morrow, Vice-President; Edwin Ellis, Secretary; John Kendrick, Treasurer. After the organization had been perfected, Mrs. Morrow served fruit and candy to the boys.

WORK AT CEMETERY GETTING GOOD START

The work of cleaning off Evergreen cemetery and planting flowers and shrubs, will get a good start this week when a force of workmen will be engaged in the work, according to Mrs. L. H. Jeter, who is devoting her time to looking after this important matter.

Although enough funds have not yet been donated to carry out the plans, Mrs. Jeter states that she has had splendid success in securing aid. There are quite a number of people who live in the country round about Elba, and all these who are urged to come to the cemetery on Friday and Saturday of this week, with hoes and rakes to assist in the cleaning off of the grounds. It might also be stated that those who find it inconvenient to come, may send in a donation to Mrs. Jeter, which will be used to great advantage in keeping the cemetery in a better condition.

THREE FARMERS HELD ON MURDER CHARGE IN STEWART DEATH.

Troy, Ala., Dec. 9.—George Hardin and Frank Wilkes, two farmers charged with murder in connection with the death of Jim Stewart, another farmer, were discharged today following a hearing on habeas corpus proceedings before Circuit Judge A. B. Foster. Isaac Hardin, Henry Wilkes and Solie McLendon, the three others arrested in connection with the case, were remanded to jail without bail.

A preliminary hearing previously held before Justice R. C. Jeter, Howell Griffin and John Park, the five defendants were bound over to trial on bond. They then instituted habeas corpus proceedings, which resulted in an order for the discharge of George Hardin and Frank Wilkes.

About sixteen witnesses were introduced by the state at the hearing today and none by the defense. The defense was represented by attorneys T. L. Borum, of Troy, and J. A. Carnley, of Elba.

Judge W. L. Parks and Circuit Solicitor Henry Jones represented the state.

There was a packed court house of interested people to hear the testimony.

The first story of the killing was that Stewart was killed in self-defense by Henry Wilkes in a scuffle as four white farmers returned from a squirrel hunt. Later allegations were that Stewart was killed at an illicit distillery, this theory being worked on by the officers following the first story.

Mr. D. S. Toel, Mrs. Dan Sellers, Mr. and Mrs. Hollan Harrison and little son attended the Beck reunion at Bullock.
